Regenorchester XII

(Franz Hautzinger - Christian Fennesz
Otomo Yoshihide - Luc Ex -Tony Buck)

Relics

Founded 1995 in London by Austrian trumpeter and band leader Franz Hautzinger as an ensemble for experimental music, the project developed over the years into a mixed style wild fusion band. Various musicians like Fennesz, Tony Buck, Otomo Yoshihide, Burkhard Stangl, Oren Ambarchi, and others were part of this long-time and often changing project, combining jazz, improvisation, brass melodies, guitar rock and electronics.

The band developed its specific pulsating and continuously evolving "Regenorchester Sound", comparing the constantly changing ways of making music, analogue and digital.

Hautzinger and his Regenorchester XII play a kind of "jazz about jazz", incorporating quite naturally accomplishments of experimental improvisation or drone and noise experiences into the rock jazz sound, pushing the boundaries of sound art and always creating surprises.

Relics was recorded live at the Klangspuren Schwaz festival in 2019.

Franz Hautzinger - quarter tone trumpet
 Christian Fennesz - guitar, laptop
 Otomo Yoshihide - guitar, turntables, el. devices
 Luc Ex - bass
 Tony Buck - drums, percussion

Mixed by Martin Siewert / Franz Hautzinger. Mastered by Martin Siewert. Artwork by Lasse Marhaug.
